Memory Album Specification

Version 1.0

Priority: CRITICAL

Status: MVP

Purpose

The Memory Album is the emotional reward for completing an experience.

Planning creates anticipation.

The evening creates memories.

The album preserves them.

The album should feel like opening an old photo box years later.

Philosophy

Do not build a photo gallery.

Build a memory.

Photos are only one part of the experience.

The album tells the story of the evening.

Album Creation

An album is automatically suggested after the evening ends.

Users can:

Create immediately

Create later

Discard

Albums are never forced.

Automatic Content

Each album automatically includes:

Title

Date

City

Weather

Route

Visited places

Timeline

Photos (user-selected)

Cover image

Estimated distance

Duration

Mood

The user may edit everything afterwards.

Delight Checklist

✓ Album feels personal.

✓ Timeline tells a story.

✓ Photos look beautiful.

✓ Opening animation feels premium.

✓ Users want to revisit old albums.

✓ Users want to share them.

DO NOT

Do NOT create a normal gallery.

Do NOT overwhelm with statistics.

Do NOT over-edit user photos.

Do NOT use cheesy filters.

Do NOT make sharing public by default.

Do NOT prioritize social metrics over memories.

Success Criteria

A user opens an album from two years ago.

Within seconds they remember:

The conversations.

The weather.

The feeling.

The laughter.

Not just the places.

That is the purpose of the Memory Album.

Golden Rule

People don't collect photos.

They collect moments.

The Memory Album exists to preserve those moments beautifully.

Claude Instructions

Every album should feel handcrafted.

Warm.

Personal.

Timeless.

When users open an old album,

they should smile before they even scroll.

That is success.
