UNPLND Product Vision

Version 1.0

Why UNPLND Exists

Every weekend.

Every evening.

Every vacation.

Millions of people ask the exact same question.

> "What should we do today?"

Not because there aren't enough options.

But because there are too many.

People open Google Maps.

TikTok.

Instagram.

Reddit.

Tripadvisor.

Google.

Weather.

Events.

Restaurant Apps.

Friends Chat.

After 30 minutes...

They still have no plan.

UNPLND exists to eliminate this friction forever.

The Problem

The biggest problem is not finding places.

The biggest problem is making decisions.

Decision fatigue destroys spontaneity.

People don't want 500 restaurants.

People want ONE amazing evening.

Our Promise

Open UNPLND.

Answer a few simple questions.

Receive a complete experience.

Done.

No stress.

No endless scrolling.

No discussions.

No planning.

Just memories.

Vision Statement

UNPLND becomes the operating system for free time.

Whenever someone has free time—

UNPLND is the first app they open.

Just like:

Spotify for music.

Google Maps for navigation.

Airbnb for travel.

UNPLND becomes the default for spontaneous experiences.

What We Are

We create experiences.

Not recommendations.

Not routes.

Not restaurant lists.

Not event feeds.

Experiences.

What We Are NOT

We are NOT:

Google Maps

Yelp

TripAdvisor

TikTok

Instagram

A booking platform

An event platform

A review platform

A navigation app

An AI chatbot

UNPLND combines the best parts of these into one effortless experience.

Emotional Goal

Every generated plan should feel like:

"My best friend planned this."

Not:

"An algorithm generated this."

The AI should disappear.

The experience should remain.

Product Feeling

Warm.

Cozy.

Playful.

Exciting.

Trustworthy.

Modern.

Minimal.

Human.

Optimistic.

Premium.

Never corporate.

Never cold.

Never overwhelming.

User Emotions

Before opening UNPLND:

Confused.

Bored.

Indecisive.

Overwhelmed.

After closing UNPLND:

Excited.

Relaxed.

Curious.

Confident.

Ready to go.

After completing the evening:

Happy.

Connected.

Inspired.

Proud.

Memorable.

Core Experience

The user never feels like they are planning.

They feel like they are already living the experience.

Planning should disappear.

The evening begins inside the app.

Long-Term Vision

UNPLND should become the place where life's best memories begin.

The app should not only help people decide what to do.

It should become part of the memory itself.

Years later, users should open their old albums and remember:

- first dates
- birthdays
- spontaneous road trips
- holidays
- celebrations
- random Tuesdays that became unforgettable

UNPLND is not about planning.

UNPLND is about remembering.

Product Principles

Every feature must answer YES to at least one of these questions:

Does it reduce decision fatigue?

Does it create better memories?

Does it increase spontaneity?

Does it strengthen friendships?

Does it make the experience feel magical?

If not—the feature does not belong in UNPLND.

Golden Rule

People won't remember the AI.

They won't remember the interface.

They won't remember the algorithm.

They will remember the night.

UNPLND exists to make ordinary evenings unforgettable.
